THINK LOCAL! BUILD COMMUNITY BY SHOPPING AT AREA BUSINESSES

"By shopping small at local businesses, you're supporting the lifeblood of our community. These business owners put their passion ahead of convenience and wholeheartedly believe in the products and services they offer. In addition, they give to local charities and organizations that serve our neighborhood and beyond. Let's keep shopping small to foster a dynamic, prosperous and tight-knit community."

Grey Sail Brewing & South County Distillers

From grain to glass. A favorite spot for locals and visitors alike, Grey Sail features craft beer, spirits and cocktails made on site. Tour the brewery, peak in at the distillery, or simply enjoy lounging at the tap room. Live music and a wood-fired pizza oven complement the casual vibe of the outdoorbeer garden and historic 1929 tap house.

Stellar Service

"It's not just about having great inventory. When a customer walks through your doors, they've made a conscious choice to support local, rather than to shop online. Make every single interaction a personal reflection of your gratitude. Often, the way you made them feel during the visit will be what they remember, and what prompts them to return again.

Shop local, dine local and support local arts because the employees, owners and vendors are our neighbors and friends."

Plan Ahead

“Of course you have to be close to your products, close to your customers, and think about them, that’s most important. But don’t forget to think about your business, what your plans are what you want to do next, how to take your business to the next level. Again, think about being in your business, but think about your business as well. Become a member of your local chamber of commerce. The chamber helps small business owners build strong ties to their communities.”

Working Together

“In my 20+ years working at Westerly Paints, I learned that how you contribute to your community outside the store is just as valuable as your commitment to your own business. Supporting our community allows us to give back to those who helped us build and grow our business. Whether it is donating our time or funds to local organizations and events, we are strengthening and growing our community. When our community succeeds, so do we.”
